SAVE THE DATE!

The 2nd International Multidisciplinary Anal Cancer Conference

IMACC2023

Rome, Italy. November 9-10, 2023

Last year we successfully launched the First International Multidisciplinary Conference in Anal Cancer, and we are delighted to invite you to save the date for our IMACC2023 conference to be held at Catholic University of Sacred Heart - Policlinico Agostino Gemelli in Rome, Italy!

We bring together clinicians, researchers and multidisciplinary groups involved in research and development of anal cancer treatment. Our ambition is to strengthen international collaboration and research development in anal cancer.

The program will include:

- Radiotherapy and systemic treatment
- Anal cancer biology and radiobiology
- Delineation and treatment planning
- Acute and late toxicity
- Translational research
- Clinical studies
- Poster and oral abstract presentations

We look forward to welcoming you!

On behalf of the IMACC Faculty:

Professor Karen-Lise Garm Spindler, Aarhus, Denmark
Professor Maria Antonietta Gambacorta, Rome, Italy
Professor Pierfrancesco Franco, Novara, Italy
